Order No. 8150-60 - Sani 132-16-1 dt 23-6 1917.

The scheme for the improvement of the Malnad was first sanctioned in February 1914 tentatively for a period of three years and subsequently extended up to the end of June 1917. It has thus been in operation for a little over three years. The statement appended to the order shows briefly the progress achieved ~~during this period~~ upto the end of Dec 1916.

2. The activities of the several Committees under the scheme have so far been directed towards the adoption of measures calculated to remove some of the evils which have contributed to the decline of the malnad, as may be seen from the annexed statement. The Committees have also done much deliberative work of value and have dealt with certain large questions of improvement such as the establishment of model villages and construction of model houses, the improvement and expansion of roads and communications, the relief of agricultural indebtedness, the better supply of labour, the provision of small industries connected with forest produce as subsidiar occupations to the people etc. Some of these schemes are now engaging the consideration of Government.

3. Certain suggestions for improving both the organization of the Malnad Improvement Scheme and the working of its agency have been brought to the notice of Government. These will be considered separately along with the important question of devising a more elaborate scheme for improving the malnad.

4. Pending further orders, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja are pleased to direct that the existing scheme be continued for another year from the 1st July 1917. A provision of Rs.1,50,000 has already been made in the budget for 1917-18 for this purpose.
